WES CLEVELAND BREWERY, Prom the Army of the Cumberland-North-

NEAR CHATTANGOGA, Nov. 8:b, 1823. Having satisted the all devouring appetit of that august personage the censor, who with divers twitches of his ugly phiz, cuts and slasher manuscript in a very ill-bred manner I am permitted to dive into some details o the minor organisations of this army, in which many of your readers have an inter est. Nearly all the Ohio batteries were raised in the bracing latitude of Cleveland, where charished friends are anxions to know their ondition, therefore I deem it not uninterest ng to report the relative situation of all BORTH ORIO BATTERIES. The gross mismanagement of artillery heretofore attached to brigades, owing to the Ignorance of brigade commanders of that branch, has suggested a remedy. At Stone River and Chicksmangs several ci our best officers and batteries were captured because they were improperly posted and in-sufficiently supported. The French mode of organizing artillery into a corps by itself has een adopted, and the first division, commanded by Colonel James Barnett, consist of batteries A, (Goodspeed's,) B, (Standart's, C, (Southwick's,) G, (Marshall's,) F, (Cockrell's,) and M, (Shultr's) of the 1st regiment Ohio artillery, with the 18th and 39th independent batterles.

Is considerably divided, two sections being at Cottonsport, fifty miles up the river, in charge of Lieutenant Scoville, and one at Sale Creek, thirty miles above here, under Lieutenant Day. This battery suffered more in the recent battles than any other engaged. In addition to the list of casualties already published, are Jesse Leonard, Henry Tabel, and William Dutton, wounded and since died. Corporal A. Mahon, privates J. T. McKes, M. Laham and W. Mshon, wounded, doing well. J. Robinson, Henry M. Davidson, C. Allen and Allen Barns are realicating somewhere in Dixis as prisoners. GOODSPEED'S BAVENCY SWRET CIDER. -50 Bais Sweet cating somewhere in Dixie as prisoners.

STANDART'S BATTERY,

Now commanded by Lieutenant Norman Baldwin, assisted by Lieutenant James Hill, is stationed here, though without horees, as the scarcity of forage has compalled the re-moval of nearly all animals to Stevenson, Alahama, to which point corn is transported by rail. I noticed on the banner of this justly popular battery the following signifi-cant legend, "Wild Cat, Mill Springs, Perry. ville, Stone River, Chickamanga" This laconic record marks a brilliant history. Captain W. E. Standart, late of General Dayman w. h. standard on account of physical disability. The sanitary condition of the man in this command is excellent.

SOUTHWICK'S BATTERY. has participated in all the sanguinary en-gagements in the Southwest, winning an im-perishable reputation. At Chickamanga it lost fourteen men killed and wounded, the names of whom I am unable to obtain. Cap-tain Southwisk and Lieutenant Turner have resigned by reason of protracted ill health, and the command has devolved upon Licutenant Geary.

Formerly Bartlett's, is officered and sanned from Cleveland. Well too may that city be proud of such men as Daptain Alexander Marchail, Lieutenant Nat Newell and Lieutenant Bills, who are at their post as usual "spelling for a fight." They have twelve men sick in the hospital, several of whem were left over a year age at Corinch lat Sergeant W. F. Sliney was recently pro-moted to 2d Lieutenant, and Quarter Master Sergeant Albert Edwards, of Euclid, to acting 2J Lleutenant. SOTH BATTERY.

The Tentonic alement, which decidedly revails in this company, is obviously proof gainst the fatid air of their low camp, since bey have 141 men for duty-a greater pum toey have it inen for duty—a greater num-ber than any other battery here. Lieutenant Otto, of the lith Indiana, is in command, with Lieut. Nitreholm as excend. William Sykes, of Chaprin Falls, and Arnold Frie-burg, of Cinveland, were soverely wounded at Chickamauga. A young officer, formerly belonging to the 19th, and at one time self-constituted inspector of sun beats for Gen. constituted inspector of gun boats for Gen. Rosearaus, has been relieved of his ten inch-bullion straps for making an indelleate re-quast of General Johnston.

COLONEL JAMES BARNETT who so ably and satisfactorily performed the ardisons duties of Chief of Artillery on Gen-eral Bosecrans' staff during the past year, has been sugceeded by General Brannan, an officer of the regular army and assigned to the command above stated. Perhaps no change among the many recently made has caused more universal regret than this. Colonel Barnett's unremitting attention to the wants of his men, his uniform gentlemanly deportbests of admirers in the Department of the Camberland. Major W. E. Lawrence, Chief of Artillery in the 14th corps, is one of these indemitable heroes who clung to the gallant Thomas, when surging battle-waves so near ly overwhelmed him at Chickemauga. The Major is in good health and his department is undergoing a decided change for the bet-ter. D. W. S.

Cleveland Procemen's Aid Commission. CLEVELAND, O., November 12, 1863. To Auxiliary Associations, and Friends of Free dom and Humanity, in Northern Ohio:

By the Proclamation of the President and the advance of our armies, hundreds of thou-sands of our fellow men, heretofore held in slavery, have obtained their freedom, a large portion of whom are women and children, $509,462 II; earned, $551,856 I6; losses and and aged and infirm persons. 621 97. The assets are, $1,089,425 52, and and aged and infirm persons.

They come within our military lines, bereft of everything but their humanity, and in their extreme destination appeal to us for garments to cover their makedness, and preserve them from death. serve them from death.

In addition to the able-hodled man and women, who can be amployed in various capacities by the Government and by individuals, it is estimated that there are at least two ale, it is estimated that there are at least two bundred thousand, (and the number is con-stantly increasing) whose wants, for the time being, must be supplied by those to whom lied has given sympathy and means of relisf. In the department of the Mississippi alone, there are fifteen centraband camps, having already gathered in them fifty thousand freedmen. The Overnment has established regulations for the employment, protection and care of these words assume the subject and care of these people, securing the enlist-ment of able bodied men, the employment of all others, able to work, men, women and children, in various capacities, in the army, n hospitals, and on plantations.

Engaged, as it is, in a mighty effort to put down the rebellion, we cannot ask the Government to do more. The people must come to the relief of those unable to labor or find are seventeen hundred, who are without food. thousand as Natchez, and large numbers at Little Reck and Milikan's Bend, many of whom are in a suff-ring condition, and then-sands must perish this winter, if not assisted by the benerolent.

"The Government is enlisting, feeding and clothing all the able bedied black men, but there are thousands of old men, women and children, who can only be reached by the benevelent in the loyal States. Will they let these poor creatures perish in this struggle for freedom? I hope not. Let our friends go to work in earnest. Help, friends of hu manity, for God's sake help now while His poor are crying for help."

The Cleveland Freedmen's Aid Commis-aion carnestly appeal to all Auxillary Asso-ciations, and all communities and citizens. to take hold of this work at once. It is too expensive to employ agents. Let Auriliary Societies call moetings without delay. Let elergymen and leading citizens, without disclorymen and feading citizens, without dis-tinction of sect or party, take measures to organize associations where none exist, take up collections in money, district the village or township, appoint canvassers to go through the districts and solicit not only second hand clothing but money. It is not enough to give oid clothes. Contributions in money, and that not sparingly, must be made, if we would meet the futt measure of this great want.

We carnestly recommend that collections be taken up for this object in all the churches on the ensuing Thanksgiving Day, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable.

The things most needed are straw ticks, bed quilts, shoes, and garments for women and children. Goods designed for general distribution should be consigned to Spencer & Mellen, Cleveland, Ohio. Goods designed for any particular camp, should be consigned to the Superintendent of that camp, to care of Spencer & Mellen, as above, and all packages should be marked "Sanitary Goods. Most of our rationals will send to Cleveland free, and goods from Cleveland to Cincinnati free. Beyond Cincinnati, freights must be paid. Goods not specifically consigned will be sent to the most destitute camps. Money collections may be sent to our Treasurer, L. F. Mellen, E.q., the receipt of which, and of all consignments of goods will be promptly acknowledged by him.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN. Rappahanneck on Saturday, and I wish to ABRABAM LINCOLN.

This characteristic expression of thanks was well received by the soldiers, who felt highly satisfied with the knowledge that their movements were observed with so nuch interest by the President. Our statements made some days ago oncerning the acceptance of General

Burnside's resignation, and the appointment of General Foster as his successor, is General Foster will leave for his new ommand in East Tennesses to-merrow, with General Petter as his Chief of Staff Surgeon General Hammond, having been ack only two days from his tour South has been ordered to Chattanooga, to make a hospital inspection. It is thought to be maxifestly the purpose of the Department to keep him away from the active discharge of his duties here as Surgeon-General. It is supposed that the individua's conted with the rebel plot to burn Buffalo and commit depredations generally on the Northern Lakes have actually got preser-sion of two steamers, and are now out upon the execution of that part of the schem which contemplates the release of the rebel prisoners on Johnson's Island. Ex Governor Morehead of Kentucky, James Clay and Marshal K. Kane, who are in Canada, are judged to be the chief managers of the business.

Three steamers, of British build, were captured off Wilmington last week. They are considered the most important capture of the war. Two officers of Her Britannic Majesty's Royal Artillery were on board one of them, and will partake of the hos pitalities of Fort Lafayette, in conjunction with the rebels. One of these worthles remarked, after capture, that had the vessels he was on succeeded in running the blockade, it would have been the most valuable single cargo ever run into the South.
Seven prizes have been captured near

Wilmington within the last six weeks. Large numbers of valuable papers of the ebel governmen; on board the first named ressel were thrown overboard during the chase, but recovered, and are now in the hand of the Secretary of the Navy. Captain Reed, of General Steel's staff, from Arkansas, is here, with the proceedings of a meeting, including the resoluions, of the loval men of that State, for resentation to the President. He regards Arkansus as probably the most loyal of the accoded States, and says that west of the Arkansas river, the people are mostly small farmers, who, owning but few negrees, are generally in favor of the Gov erament.

Colonel Birney is at Benedict, in Maryaggregate receipts this year of SS,662 bbls four and 3.765,526 bush wheat, or reducing flour to wheat of land, on Chesapeake Bay, encamped with tive negro regiments. He has four steamers accuring the waters thereabouts, gath-ering up material for other regiments.
